He sited similar cases in New York, San Francisco, Chicago and Norfolk, where bail was as large and larger and said the defendant was a bank officer in a position of trust and is accused of criminal violation of trust.

RESCUED!

The Crew of a Wrecked Steamer Found Clinging to the Helpless Ship in Mid-Ocean.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 29.—The steamer Lillian, Captain Tinipson in charge, owned by the Clarks, of Paisley, Scotland, arrived here at 12 o'clock last night.

At noon yesterday, the Mohican fell in with the ship Lillian, of St. John, New Brunswick, which had been rendered a complete wreck during the previous day's storm. The crew of seventeen men, besides Captain Whitney's wife and the stewardess, were clinging to the helpless ship, and signaled to the Mohican. A fierce wind was blowing, and a high sea was running, but a boat was launched from the steamer, and after five hours of perilous work, the crew was rescued. The Lillian was abandoned about 300 miles east of Halifax. She was from Rotterdam and was bound to New York with a cargo of empty oil casks.

FOREIGN NEWS.

DUBLIN, Aug. 29.—The Freeman's Journal states that Mr. Arthur O'Connor, the member of parliament for Donegal, and Sir Thomas Henry Gratten Esmond, the member of parliament for Dublin county, will visit the United States in September, and address a monster meeting to be convened by the Irish National League of America. Sir Henry Esmond is the great grand son of Henry Grattan, the famous Irish patroit.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Two secretaries of general Farrou, the minister of war, have been arrested for disclosing to Figaro the plan for carrying out the mobilization scheme and thus allowing its publication contrary to the government's wish.

Prince Victor, the son of Prince Jerome Bonaparte, has issued a manifesto at Brussels, in which he condems the conservative party of France for supporting opportunist cabinet. He describes the present condition of his party and expresses his views as to the proper course to be pursued to accomplish the end in view, the restoration of the empire. The manifesto is remarkable in its failure to make any mention of Paul De Cassognoc, the whilmon champion of Bonapartism.

Business Failure.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 29.—Wm. St. Clair Ross, doing business as W. St. Clair Ross & Co., at Elm and Third streets, assigned to-day, to H. P. Lloyd. The firm has been doing a large business as paper manufacturers and wholesale dealers in envelopes, cards, &c. The failure was precipitated by eastern failures. Among the preferred orditors are the Queen City National bank, $19,000; and Lydia H. Ross $8,000. The liabilities are estimated at $40,000, with assets at $25,000. The firm had been in business about a year.

Sixty Persons Poisoned.

BEAUMONT, Texas. Aug. 28.—An ice-cream festival was given last night at the residence of George Carroll for the benefit of the Baptist church. After partaking of the cream about sitxy persons were seized with symptoms of poisoning. No one has as yet died from the effects of the poison, though two persons are reported to be still unconscious and several others seriously ill. The only way the poisoning can be accounted for is by the use of a new ice-cream freezer.

PROUD OF IT.

The New Y. M. C. A. Building an Ornament to the City—The Association and the Work it is Doing.

The new Y. M. C. A. building, which has been in progress of erection this summer, will be completed so that the association will be able to occupy it late in the fall, and early in the winter, at least, they will be comfortably ensconsced in their new quarters. The citizens of Fort Wayne have reason to feel proud of the magnificent building which this association has erected on their principal thoroughfare, and in the very heart of the business center of the city. It is a credit to its builders, a monument to the generosity of the citizens whose liberality permitted its erection, and for years to come it will be admired not only for the beauty of its architecture, but for the good that it has done for the young men of our city.

The Young Men's Christian Association, which has been in actual operation in this city for a number of years, has led many a young man to reformation and a better life, and when the association is established in their new rooms, they will have better opportunities for drawing around them this class and the good that they can do in the way of reforming the morals of the city will be almost immeasurable.

The secretary of the association, Mr. R. M. Hays, to whose indefatiable labor much of the success of the new building is due and who is heart and soul in the Y. M. C. A. work, informs us that the building will be entirely ready for occupancy by Thanksgiving Day and it is proposed on that day to hold a grand opening meeting in the auditorium room. Previous to this, however, about the middle of October, perhaps, it is intended to hold a fair and festival in the building, by which it is hoped a handsome sum will be raised for defraying the expense of furnishing the rooms. Many of our citizens have held up the hands of the secretary in his noble work and they will continue to do so, but it is hoped the aid and encouragement of all our people will be extended to him that the Y. M. C. A. may draw all the young men of our city under its benign influences.

A FEW ROBBERIES.

Fred. Smith's House Burglarized, Two Store Rooms Broken Into, While J. W. Pearse Looses a Horse and Buckboard.

Fred. Smith lives at 237 Clay street, near the shops. He is employed at night in the new Pittsburg yards, and must leave Mrs. Smith at home alone. Saturday night the lady saw some one prowling about the residence, and getting alarmed, she went to the house of a friend and stayed all night and yesterday.

When Mr. Smith went home this morning, he discovered that his house had been robbed. He missed about $30 from a bureau drawer, as well as a pair of bracelets, a gold ring and a few household articles. The thief either got in through a window or from the cellar, it matters not which. He enjoyed himself, however, because he put on a pair of Mr. Smith's socks and then donned his new shoes leaving his old ones to be remembered by. The officers were notified this morning, but have no clew, and besides, they look with some suspicion on Mrs. Smith's absence from home.

Last night, at midnight, Special Officer John Madden, discovered the front door of John Brannan's old grocery, on East Main street, wide open. Below the lock was an anger hole, and through it the burglars picked the fastenings. An iron sledge lay near the door, but when Mr. Currier, one of the proprietors, was called, he could discover nothing missing, so that this raid was not remunerative.

These same maranders went to the junk shop and tin store of M. Diehl & Co., on Calhoun street, and forced in the door. Mr. Diehl found everything in disorder in his place of business this morning, but nothing was taken as far as he could detect. His safe was opened, but nothing of special value was in the vault.

Mr. J. W. Pearse, the ex-superintendent of the street car line, let one of his workmen on the Simon's farm, have a horse and buggy to drive down to the Hartzell homestead, near New Haven. Some time afterward the fellow was found on the road side near the Organ factory, so drunk he did not know his name. Mr. Pearse at once began a search for his horse, but at this writing, —1 o'clock—he had not a trace of the animal or vehicle. The fellow, too, disappeared when he sobered up and cannot be found. It is a strange case.

QUITE A SURPRISE.

Mr. Will P. Cooper and Miss Nellie Brown Married at Chicago To-day.

Mr. Will P. Cooper, city editor of the Gazette, and Miss Nellie Brown, the artist, left for Chicago last night. The relatives of the young people were agreeably surprised this morning by a message from Mr. Cooper announcing his intention to wed Miss Brown, at Chicago, to-day.

Mr. Cooper and Miss Brown are first cousins and under the laws of Indiana, cannot wed. The laws of Illinois are more liberal and recognize such a union, so that at this hour it is fare to presume that congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Cooper are in order.

Mr. Cooper is a brilliant writer, very scholarly and entertaining. Miss Brown came here some months ago from Lafayette and established an art studio. She also officiated as society editress of the Gazette, and in both pursuits she won laurels.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper are happily wed and the press gang can only hope that their life will be a continual honeymoon.

A BIG FLAME.

The Anchor Manufacturing Company Suffer a Severe Loss.

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—Early this morning, at Detray, eight miles west of here, a fire broke out in the dry kiln of the Anchor Manufacturing company. An extra engine was sent from this city, but nearly all the buildings are on fire, and it is probably too late to save anything. The loss will be from $250,000 to $300,000. The business of the Anchor Manufacturing company is the making of the one-stave barrel and kindred cooperage, and holding supplies. The employes number about 400. The New York sugar manufacturers of Peter Havemeyer's Sons control the stock of the company.

The hoop mill was saved, but all the other buildings were destroyed. Five Michigan Central box cars which were standing on the switch were also burned. The Michigan Central rails were so twisted by heat that traffic will be delayed some time. All the trains on the Lake Shore road were held back all morning on account of smoke and heat. The insurance was only $46,000 on the burned buildings.

QUEER KIND OF FUN.

Seven Members of a Fire Department Arrested for Being the Originators of Incendiary Fires

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Aug. 29.—Seven members of the Plainfield volunteer fire department, Theo. Van Ness, Lewis Van Ness, Horace Van Ness, George Reed, Phillip Hoppenny, Robert Skinner and John Javskon, were arrested between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning, accused of having been the originators of a hundred or more incendiary fires, that have taken place in the city during the last ten or twelve years. One of the number confessed, saying they did it for the fun of the thing.

POLICE COURT.

The Roll Call Shows a Brisk Sunday Business and Considerable Fun.

Hon. Charles F. Muhler presided at the mayor's court this morning and was as pleasant as a prince after his summer jaunt. Prosecutor Dawson and Captain Diehl were there and seemed inclined to look with a large degree of suspicion on his honor's fish stories. Mr. Muhler put himself in position in his arm and shot his sea tales straight into the jealous prosecutor and police captain with an eclat that would turn Will Scheiffer green with envy. "When I was at Maxinkuckee" wedged in Mr. Dawson, but before he could get in another word, the mayor had his gavel in hand and with an air of disdain for pond stories, spoke up "call the prisoners," while the state's attorney settled down as a crushed tragedian. The caste this morning was as follows:

Fred Gross assault on Jake Luli.

John McNamara, assault on John Abry.

John Gruber, Theo. Bushneli, Warren Neff, Ben Perkins, John Brown, Geo. Brase, G. Scherzinger, Dr. Ezra Reed and Harry Gard.

Young Gross denies that he struck Luli and he appears to be truthful. His case will come up to-morrow, all the other victims, save three, paid their fines and went on their way rejoicing. The three unfortunates are doing the anvil chorus on the stone pile.

A BIG ONE

Is What the Gas Meeting Promises to be.

To-night at the circuit court room a monster meeting will be held to effect the organization of a company to furnish natural gas to Fort Wayne at the actual cost of the product.

The committee in charge have made perfect arrangements, and they invite everybody to attend.

Short speeches will be made, and a plan of organization presented. This is a great project, and ought to have universal support.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, August 29.—Indiana, generally fair weather, slightly warmer.

A Horrible Death.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 29.—John Golden, aged 44 years, was instantly killed at 9 o'clock, this morning, at the nut and bolt works of Col. L. M. Dayton, in Newport, Ky. His arm was caught in a belt and dashed a heavy pair of shears, which he had in his hand, against his head, causing instant death. He leaves a wife and four children.

A New Gas Well.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 29.—Twenty-five miles from this place down the Ohio river and upon the Indiana side of the river, the Union Gas Co., of Louisville, has struck a magnificent flow of natural gas at the depth of 400 feet. Major Wm. J. Davis, the geologist of this company, says the flow of gas is not less than 10,000,000 feet daily. He does not believe the flow from the Karg well will exceed this well.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The opening of the stock market was moderately active and streng, first prices showing advances of from ⅛ to ⅞c. Further small advances, generally from ⅛ to ⅜c were made in the barly dealings. At 11 o'clock the market was dull and firm.

Noon—Money, easy at 4@5 per cent.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Wheat, ⅛c lower. No. 2 red, Aug. 79⅞c. Corn, ⅛@⅜c lower. Oats, dull at 32@40c.

TOLEDO, Aug. 29.—Wheat, steady, at 74⅛c. Corn, quiet at 43½c bid. Oats, firm, at 26c. Cloverseed, steady, at $4.60.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Wheat, easier, Sept., at 68⅞. Corn, steady 40½c. Oats lower at 24½c. Rye, 44½.

Death of a Turfman.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 29.—John Weigert last evening shot and fatally injured John Bradley, a well known turfman, whom he found with his wife at a house of ill repute in Louisville. Weigert was arrested. Bradley had been intimate with Weigert's wife for some time.

The Academy.

The Academy of Music will be opened this evening under the management of R. G. Thompson, the north side ticket ticket agent, and E. W. Cook, the Wabash freight department cashier. The young gentlemen have fixed the house up elaborately and propose to please their patrons. The attraction to-night and to-morrow night is "The World," by J. Z. Little and a strong company.

AROUND THE CITY.

The News of the Day as Gathered from the Railroad and Manufacturing Centers of the City.

The railroads are bringing large shipments of lumber into the city.

Wm. Boag, a Pittsburg machinist, is kept from duty on account of sickness.

Ph. Smith, of the Bass works, is detained at home on account of sickness in his family.

George Strasser has resigned his position in the Bass machine shop, to take a position in the Pennington works.

John Lonegan, a machinist in the Bass foundry, has returned from a visit to Pittsburg and resumed his position.

The Pennsylvania railway company's net earnings show an increase of $92,000 for July, 1887, as compared with July of 1886.

The Wabash road are to be complimented for the magnificent excursion that they gave to their employes on Saturday.

Henry M. Zauner, the machinist in the Bass works, kindly showed our reporter through their new foundry building this morning.

Robert Harrison, the foreman in the Pittsburg machine shops, holds the ribbons behind a fast trotter and very few blooded horses can pass him on the road.

George Needhammer, a machinist in the Pittsburg shops, who has been off duty for some time on account of a severe case of rheumatism, returned to work this morning.

Thirty-seven years ago yesterday that veteran machinist in the Pittsburg shops, H. Miller, landed in this country, and he celebrated the event at his residence on Marion street, in a very pleasant manner.

The Baldwin locomotive works are employing over two thousand hands, and for the first six months of the present year turned out 318 locomotives. They now have orders on hand for 150, and the output for the year will, it is estimated, reach 650, the largest number ever known.

About a week ago, Philip Hess, the son of P. J. Hess, of the Pittsburg machine shops, while out in the country hunting for nuts, fell from a tree and broke his arm, besides receiving other injuries. He was taken to his home on Creighton avenue and for a few days was a great sufferer, but we are pleased to note that he is now improving rapidly, and will entirely recover from his injuries.

The Bass works have completed their new foundry building and will move into it on Wednesday, although there are now a small number of men at work in the place. The room is a very large one, and the force of moulders engaged in the other two rooms will be transferred to the foundry, and the rooms which they have occupied will be used for the manufacture of car wheels only.

The Wabash boys report that they had a splendid time at their excursion to Put-in-Bay on Saturday. Everything passed off pleasantly and no accidents occurred to mar the pleasure of the day. The ride across the lake to the island was a delightful one, and a few hours were spent in visiting the attraction that the place affords, and the excursion returned to this city about half-past twelve Sunday morning.

The boys in the east end moulding rooms of the Bass foundry have a cat, and, by common consent, that cat has been voted the special property of Frank Stier, one of the popular moulders of the works. This morning when the boys came to work, the cat was found in a box, near Frank's working place, with a family of fine beautiful little kittens, and the boys are as proud of those kittens as the mother is. They will be raised and educated by Frank, and no rats will ever invade the moulding rooms to gnaw holes in the dinner baskets of the employes.

"Say do you want a baby item?" said John A. Reilly, as THE SENTINEL reporter was passing through the Pittsburg shops this morning. "You bet," quickly responded our youth and he pulled out his note book and commenced to put a fine point on his No. 3 Faber, "that just the kind of items us reporters are paying a big premium for. Who is the luckey fellow?" "Well, I don't know of anybody just now, but that fellow standing over there, with blue overalls on, was telling me that his cow had a calf last night and if that will do you any good, you might go over and speak to him." Our reporter pocketed his note book and pencil, marched straight up to the desk of Foreman B. Fitzpatrick and preferred charges against the employe who would thus blast the hopes of an anxious reporter.

Serious Accident at the Saratoga Races.

A BURGLAR'S FATE.

Jimmy McDavitt, the Noted Cracksman, Meets a Horrible Death While Burglarizing a Store.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Jimmy McDavitt, the well known burglar, and nephew of Jimmy Elliott, the prize fighter, who was killed by Jere Dunn, in Chicago, a few years ago, met with a violent death this morning while trying to escape from a store, where he had been discovered. He was surprised by a porter, who closed the door on him and sent for the police. After a desperate struggle, McDavitt plunged through the plate glass window and was caught by the stomach and disemboweled. When released he was dead.

The Late Dr. Melsheimer.

The remains of the late Dr. C. T. Melsheimer, arrived in the city at noon, en route to Bluffton, where the funeral occurs to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Fort Wayne people who desire to attend the funeral can leave in the morning and return in a special coach after the obsequies, as such arrangements have been perfected.

Alleged Crookedness.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—An Indianapolis, Ind., News special says: "The latest discovery of crookedness in the democratic management of the state affairs, is a voucher on file in the state auditor's office showing that in last May, the trustee of the insane hospital, had paid $2.72 per gallon for 272 gallons of strawberries, when the market price was only 32 cents. A democratic farmer was given the contract. Numerous cases of corruption in the hospital's contract system have been made against the trustees by the state civil service association.

[The statement above is misleading. The record should read "$2.72 per bushel," and not "gallon" as it does. This is all there is in this idle tale.—ED. SENTINEL.]

MONDAY, AUGUST 29, 1887.

THE killed at the Bussey bridge disaster of the Boston and Providence Railroad were not a fourth of those at Chatsworth, and yet the road has settled claims reaching $430,000.

THE Rev. Myron W. Reed, of Denver, Colo., is spoken of as a probable successor of the late Henry Ward Beecher in Plymouth Church. Mr. Reed originally preached in Indianapolis in the church where Mr. Beecher held his first pastorate.

IN Paris in 1883 115,000,000 people traveled in busses, 131,900,000 in street cars, 188,500,000 in the penny steamers, 65,000,000 in suburban trains. The busses are very popular and have steadily grown for thirty years. In 1854 34,000,000 people used them; 1864, 96,000,000; 1874, 115,000,000; 1884, 191,000,000.

BUFFALO BILL, according to recent reports from London, is not likely to return with much money. It is said that he made an unfortunate contract with the managers of the American Exhibition to something like the effect that he was to receive one-third of the receipts of his show and assume all the expenses of it. It is said that but for this the American Exhibition would have scored a loss.

GEN. MILES well deserves the sword to be presented to him by the inhabitants of Arizona Territory on the anniversary of the surrender of Geronimo. He is to-day the most popular man in Arizona, and justly so. The difficulties which confronted him when he undertook the task of freeing that Territory of hostile Apaches will never be understood outside of the district most interested in the result. His success has endeared him to the people of Arizona, who for the first time in years are free from apprehensions of Indian outbreaks.

THE Berlin correspondent of the Straussburger Post thus describes Prince Bismarck, as he appeared on leaving Berlin for Varzin recently: "Prince Bismarck has undeniably become an old man. His hair is snow white, his face marked with deep wrinkles, but his gait is firm and his figure as erect as ever. The Prince has of late been wearing silver spectacles, which give him a strange appearance. His traveling costume consisted of a light-colored summer suit, a yellow spring overcoat, and an enormous soft gray hat. He was accompanied only by Count Rantzau and two gigantic bulldogs, which jumped into the carriage ahead of him."

TWO DROVERS in Southwestern Missouri discovered a huge snake, yellow and spotted, coiled up in a lump the size of a bushel basket. Its head was raised and a long, forked tongue rapidly shot forth, while its tail, in air, rapidly vibrated, giving forth an ominous and well-known racket from more than twenty rattles. They began at a given signal to rain heavy blows upon the snake, which rolled up into twice its original bulk, writhing and rattling under the stinging whacks from the two sturdy cattlemen. It was killed and found to be nearly ten feet in length. Along its back was a sharp ridge, bearing long hairs like a hog's bristles, strung at short intervals along the entire length of the snake.

A BRAVE feat was performed at Kingstown, England, the other evening by a constable named Ewbank, who, having seen a man fling himself into the sea off the pier, immediately threw off his coat and boots, tied a rope around his waist, and swam out to the rescue. At about eighty yards from shore he came up to the intending suicide, who turned on Ewbank and caught him by the throat. A desperate struggle ensued, and both sunk and were given up for lost. They rose, however, after a considerable interval; the rope had slipped off the constable, and his prisoner made still more frantic efforts to drown both. Ewbank, however, perceiving the rope floating, caught it with one hand and held his prisoner with the other, and both were hauled ashore.

AN interesting experiment in co-operative industry is now being made in Minnesota, where a colony of a half-dozen families from Minneapolis have settled in Crow Wing County on a tract of land of 250 acres, bought for the purpose by the Minneapolis Knights of Labor. These families were not prospering in the city, and were too poor to have undertaken farming independently. On so small a scale did they begin, and so poor were they, that it was months before they could provide themselves with a single team of horses. But, after a year's trial, the Minneapolis Tribune states that they have done well, have found health and a sufficient though frugal living on the land, and have a start that will render them eventually prosperous.

Pimples, boils, and other humors are liable to appear when the bloood gets heated. To cure them, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE common use lately made of Mrs. Cleveland's picture as an advertising card is likely to lead to several suits against the firms putting them out, says a Washington dispatch. The originals of the pictures were copyrighted by two Washington photographers shortly after Mrs. Cleveland's marriage. At first the only advantage reaped was from the local sale of cards. Gradually an outside demand sprang up. Before this could be met orders commenced to pour in from all parts of Europe for them. They have proved to be the most popular selling pictures of the day. To supply the foreign demand leading houses in London and Paris are now striking off copies of the American originals without regard to the rights of the Washington artists. They have no remedy for the foreign grievances, but they have one for the infringement in this country. The tobacco houses, cigarette manufacturers, and soap dealers who have been making Mrs. Cleveland's features common in lithographs and chromos are to be called to account, and the prosecutions will have the moral sanction of the White House, where the practice has caused much offense. There is no desire on the part of Mrs. Cleveland to give the Washington dealers a monopoly of her features, and she is not adverse to copies being made for private sale, use, or ornament, even if she should be compelled to give outside artists a special sitting, but she will not consent to the use of her pictures for an advertisement.

THE Chicago Herald, in a few well-chosen sentences, disposes of Ives, who "aspired to be a greater Gould or a more resplendent Vanderbilt." Ives for a time traveled at a thundering gait toward the hundred-million goal. In various ways he had secured $20,000,000 assets, but liabilities managed to keep up with the procession, and suddenly the crash came and Ives went down. "Legitimate trade," says the Herald, "lawful profits, enterprises within the lines of conscience, never piled up a fortune of a hundred millions within a single lifetime. Several such fortunes, and numbers of others scarcely less tremendous, have been accumulated since the civil war, but by what methods? The few who have achieved this questionable success are they who have plucked the fruits of corrupted legislation, a debauched judiciary and unrighteous public subsidies. The oppressed majority have paid the fiddler, and are paying for this unholy dance of multi-millionaires which now goes merrily on."

Erysipelas and Obstinate Ulcers, Boils, Carbuncles and Running Sores of every kind are cleansed, the poison-germs destroyed and a speedy cure effected by using Darby's Prophylactic Fluid.

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles Hood's Sarsaparilla, and am cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

Is one of the most disagreeable diseases caused by impure blood. It is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well."

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He tood Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. Stanton, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for no such combination exists in the Pharmacopea as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HINTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

BITS OF SCIENCE.

ONE who claims to have tried it says rubber may be fastened to iron by means of a paint composed of powered shellac steeped in about ten times it weight of concentrated ammonia. It should be allowed to stand three or four weeks before being used.

A NEW theory of the final destruction of the earth is that the polar ice is penetrating the interior of the globe like a wedge, and that as soon as it reaches the furnace there will be an explosion that will split the world into pieces too small for truck-patches.

IT is often desirable to make excavations for pipes in very cold weather, when the earth is frozen. Quicklime has been tried for thawing the surface with success. The ground to be dug is covered with alternate layers of lime and snow. The slacking lime heats the soil so effectually that after ten or fifteen hours it may be removed with ease.

"BROWNING" oranges grown in the West Indies and Mexico, so that they shall pass muster as real Florida fruit, is the device of an enterprising Yankee. The process consists of putting the fruit into a large sieve and passing it over a hot fire until the oranges contained therein are sufficiently scorched, technically "browned" to give them the true Florida tinge which is peculiar to that delicious orange. The "browned" fruit is mostly shipped north and west.

M. LIGNER, an Austrian meteorologist, claims to have ascertained, after careful investigation, that the moon has an influence on a magnetized needle, varying with its phases and declinations. The phenomenon is said to be more prominently noticeable when the moon is near the earth, and to be very marked when she is passing from the full to her first or second quarter. The disturbances are found to be at their maximum when the moon is in the plane of the equator, and greater during the southern than it is during the northern declination.

GALTON has pointed out some very curious facts concerning the children of professional men. He found, from a study of the heredity of the members of some of the largest scientific societies of London, that the legal profession presented the most eminent men and the fewest idiots. The medical profession came next, and lastly clergymen, who produced the smallest number of eminent men and the largest number of idiots and feeble-minded. The lawyers gave origin to six times as many eminent men as the clergy. The clergy gave origin to six times as many idiots and feeble-minded as the lawyers.

PROF. TROWBRIDGE'S plan of submarine telephony in which speech was to be transmitted between vessels at sea without the aid of any connecting wire has been abandoned as impracticable, as the system upon which Mr. Edison has been experimenting in Florida is more promising of good results. In this system the telephone signals, by long and short explosive sounds instead of by spoken words and communications, have been successfully exchanged through the water between vessels from three to four miles apart, with the prospect that the working limit may be increased with improvement in the apparatus.

CRABS, which are supposed to shed their shells every year, do not often shed them after they have attained their full size, and the creatures become victims to barnacles and all sorts of marine growths that fasten themselves upon the shell. A remarkable example of this may be seen in the British museum, where has been placed an old crab of the edible species, with some half-dozen oysters of large size fixed to its back, which load, ever increasing, the old crab was doomed to carry to the end of its days. Another curious specimen preserved is that of a hairy crab, which, though not larger itself than a walnut, is saddled with a sponge as large as a man's fist.

A Chapter from Relics.

The pre-historic development of Northern Europe is considered in a work by the late J. J. Worsaal, an eminent Danish archaeologist, under the following phrases, the approximate chronology assigned being as stated: First. The early Stone Age, at least 3,000 B. C., when portions only of Southern Scandanavia seem to have been inhabited. Second. The later Stone Age, about 2,000 to 1,000 B. C., contemporaneous with the Bronze Age on the shores of the Mediterranean. Third. The early Bronze Age, about 1,000 to 500 B. C., when a Stone Age existed to the north, and an Iron Age had already come in to the south. Fourth. The late Bronze Age, about 500 B. C. to the time of Christ's birth, when a pre-Roman Age of Iron was developed in Central and Western Europe. Fifth. The early Iron Age from A. D. 1 to 450, when bronze was still in use in parts of the Scandinavian peninsula. Sixth. The middle Age of Iron, about A. D. 450 to 700, when foreign Roman-German influence predominated. Seventh. The later Iron Age or Viking Period, about A. D. 700 to 1,000, when a Stone Age still lingered in the extreme north of Finland and Lapland.

AT no very remote period on May day the milkmaids who supplied London and other places with milk dressed up a milch cow with wreaths and garlands of flowers, and leading the animal along in state, danced around it before the houses of their principal customers.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. We know of no remedy for dyspepsia more successful than Hood's Sarsaparilla. It acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, tones the stomach and other organ, removes the faint feeling creates a good appetite, cures headache, and refreshes the burdened mind. Give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial. It will do you good.

EVILS OF PRESENTING GIFTS.

A Beautiful Custom That Is Greatly Abused.

[Good Housekeeping.]

Sham and show, perplexity, annoyance, and extravagance have crept into the custom of gift-giving. Though one may make a gift out of the depth of the heart, and do it becomingly and unassumingly, yet it seems as if a dozen influences were bearing on him to force him into a greater expense than he can afford, or to give where he is reluctant to do so, or where he must make a show of the article given. Quiet, unostentatious, spontaneous giving shines brightly, when we find it amid the dreary heartlessness, the gaudy show, and the heartburnings that often accompany the formal giving that is a part of social life.

The reader may call to mind some wedding or birthday anniversary that she is invited to help celebrate. The problem of all problems, even outranking the common, "What shall I wear?" then is, "What present shall I send?" It is not enough to go and participate in the social duties and to be cordial in well wishing and congratulation, for none of this will pardon the neglect of oversight of the gift. There will be the question, "Where is Mrs. Jackson's present?" and then the unpleasant comment if she has made none. So Mrs. Jackson sets out to find some compromise between pride and purse, perhaps poverty, something that costs no more than absolutely compulsory, and yet looks as if it were worth a great deal more, something that the other guests will not look at slightingly, if not speak of contemptuously, or at least think of in the same spirit

And then the guests compare these proxies of themselves and put themselves on exhibition, after a fashion, about in the same way that they would do if they were to stand up before a committee of critics and have the style and elegance of their clothing passed upon. The show is at last over, but the jealousies and heartburnings remain, the fear that respectability has been endangered by the insignificance of the gift, or the overtopping consciousness of a few that they each made the best, or one of the best, presents of the lot.

Afterward, as is more or less the custom in some parts of the country, the names of the donors and a brief description of their gifts appear in some newspaper, there to undergo further comparison and criticism and all the train of accompaniments. Finally, if the present was valuable enough, it may find its way to a shop where duplicate presents are bought and sold, so little did the receiver care about the personality of the giver, or of such little use is it to the recipient among several other presents of the same kind.

Gift extortion and compulsory gift-making are little less than sinful, if they fall short of that. Gifts are by no means always the token of friendship, and, when combined with the abuses that are often made to accompany them, they are demoralizing; they are unpleasant features of what take the form of duties, and they are dark spots in social life.

Something is wrong when a present is made a test of social standing, or when it is made the prerequisite for performing a social act. There is an opportunity for reform when what is apparently a friendly deed is confessedly empty of honest intent, when it is burdensome, annoying, compulsory, false-hearted, or made for show, or evidence of wealth, or merely for social conformity.

The only excuse that one can make for these abuses of gift-making is that their compulsory features have the effect of putting people into the habit of making presents at a time when their friendly feelings have not become strong enough to prompt the act unaided. With the growth of these feelings the custom gradually gets a better and surer foundation and stands more plainly in harmony with civilization. A gift should be the embodiment of sentiment, from which cost should be totally divorced as an element of weight, and with which no social compulsion should be linked except the compulsion of a spontaneous expression of feeling. The world is not good enough for that yet, but some attempt, if only a feeble one, if general enough, would be a green oasis in the desert.

Can't Judge from Appearances.

About all we know is that there is absolutely no infallible rule about anything. Sane people may be madder than hatters and you wouldn't know it by any outward sign, and other people may rave and yell and shout and not be a bit mad all the time. I don't think the man with the constant smile and the merry laugh and the good nature and all that sort of thing is as happy as he is credited with being. I know a fellow who has the reputation for all that sort of thing, and he had plenty of friends, but that fellow is about as miserable a man as I ever knew. Few people have any idea of it, but he wants in his heart to be able to do things he can't do, what other far less popular people do, and he has ambitions that his very easy going disposition is antagonistic to. He has secret desires to have a reputation for a kind of cleverness he is not capable of, and all his friends and all his popularity in his special line cannot compensate for the consciousness of his incapacity for his tastes. Yet he has sense enough to stick to what he can do, and knows well enough that if he didn't he couldn't make a living. — San Francisco Chronicle.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

It may be worth while to investigate this "talk" and see what there is in it.

Eighteen bicyclists gaily started from the Globe chop house at 9:30 yesterday morning, for a trip to Huntington and return. The tube rose, although one of the sweetest of flowers, is rapidly going out of style, so far as wearing them is concerned. "The reason is," said a lady the other day, "that they always remind one of a funeral. So many have been used about funerals that every house where a dead person lies is redolent with the perfume of tube roses, and it gets to be associated in everybody's mind with a corpse and thus it gets unpopular."

Rev. Dr. Craig, of Chicago, who has been filling the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church during the vacation of the pastor, Dr. Moffat, preached his closing sermon last evening. Tony Lehman, who has been employed at the Aveline house for some time, left the city about four weeks ago to visit relatives, and while engaged in doing some work with a small toy scroll saw, the saw broke and a piece of it struck him in the eye inflicting such injuries that the eye was entirely destroyed. The other eye is now seriously affected and it is thought he will also lose that one. He is a brother-in-law of Dr. Martz, of this city, and he now has his home with him.

Five car loads of Fort Wayne excursionists went to Huntington yesterday with the Knights of Pythias. The day was delightful, and everybody enjoyed the trip to the thrifty, decorated little city. The town is enjoying a boom and the evidences of prosperity are manifested everywhere. After a visit to the Pythian encampment, which, by the way, is not what it promised to be, a member of the SENTINEL staff was entertained in the pleasantest sort of a manner by his friend, Mr. Will Emery, editor of the Huntington Democrat.

AN EASTERN TALE.

A king once summoned his three sons,
And thus addressed the anxious ones:
"Go forth, my sons, through all the earth
And search for articles of worth;
Then he who brings the choicest thing,
Shall in my stead be crowned as king."

In one year's time again they meet,
And kneel before the sovereign's feet:
And as with gracious outstretched hand,
He welcomed home the youthful band,
He natural eagerness expressed,
To see the objects of their quest.
The first such lustrous pearls displays,
That every tongue is loud in praise.
So white, the snow-flakes on their way
Compared to them are dull and gray.
The next a diamond more pure,
And larger than the Koh-i-noor,
That shone with such a brilliant light,
The sunbeams, shamed, withdrew from sight.

'Twas hard to choose between the two,
The monarch knew not what to do.
The third is standing calmly there;
Now, with a half triumphant air
And smile of confidence and hope,
He shows a cake of Ivory Soap,
So peerless in its purity,
That dirt, alarmed, takes wings to fly.
The old king, as it meets his sight,
Grasps it, and cries in wild delight:
"No more confusion or dismay.
No more cold meals on washing day.
Subjects! my youngest son obey,
The Ivory Soap has won the day."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

The county commissioners met as gravel road directors to-day.

Mr. J. M. Henry, who was a member of Co. A. 8th Ohio regiment during the war, made a member of THE SENTINEL staff a very pleasant call this morning. Mr. Henry enlisted in the army at Tiffin, O., and was one of the bravest soldiers in the field.

Mr. John Magee, the contractor in charge of the Centlivre gas well, died yesterday, at his boarding house out on Spy Run avenue. Mr. Megee suffered from cancer, and that disease caused his death after an illness of three week's duration. Since coming here he made many warm friends and his untimely death will be mourned. His home is at Union City, Pa., and he was prominent as a gas contractor. His brother will arrive from Richburg, N. Y., to-night, to convey the remains of the dead contractor to Pennsylvania.

Would not Reduce It.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 29.—Judge Sage, of the United States court to whom an application was made last week to reduce the bail of Benjamin Hopkins, the late assistant cashier of the Fidelity National bank, rendered an opinion this morning refusing the application. He cited similar cases in New York, San Francisco, Chicago and Norfolk, where bail was as large and larger and said the defendant was a bank officer in a position of trust and is accused of criminal violation of trust.

RESCUED!

The Crew of a Wrecked Steamer Found Clinging to the Helpless Ship in Mid-Ocean.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 29.—The steamer Lillian, Captain Tinjason in charge, owned by the Clarks, of Paisley, Scotland, arrived here at 12 o'clock last night.

At noon yesterday, the Mohican fell in with the ship Lillian, of St. John, New Brunswick, which had been reported a complete wreck during the previous day's storm. The crew of seventeen men, besides Captain Whitney's wife and the stewardess, were clinging to the helpless ship, and signaled to the Mohican. A fierce wind was blowing, and a high sea was running, but a boat was launched from the steamer, and after five hours of perilous work, the crew was rescued. The Lillian was abandoned about 300 miles east of Halifax. She was from Rotterdam and was bound to New York with a cargo of empty oil casks.

FOREIGN NEWS.

DUBLIN, Aug. 29.—The Freeman's Journal states that Mr. Arthur O'Connor, the member of parliament for Donegal, and Sir Thomas Henry Grattan Esmond, the member of parliament for Dublin county, will visit the United States in September, and address a monster meeting to be convened by the Irish National League of America. Sir Henry Esmond is the great grand son of Henry Grattan, the famous Irish patriot.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Two secretaries of general Farron, the minister of war, have been arrested for disclosing to Figaro the plan for carrying out the mobilization scheme and thus allowing its publication contrary to the government's wish.

Prince Victor, the son of Prince Jerome Bonaparte, has issued a manifesto at Brussels in which he condemns the conservative party of France for supporting opportunist cabinet. He describes the present condition of his party and expresses his views as to the proper course to be pursued to accomplish the end in view, the restoration of the empire. The manifesto is remarkable in its failure to make any mention of Paul De Cassagnac, the whilom champion of Bonapartism.

Business Failure.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 29.—Wm. St. Clair Ross, doing business as W. St. Clair Ross & Co., at Elm and Third streets, assigned to-day, to H. P. Lloyd. The firm has been doing a large business as paper manufacturers and wholesale dealers in envelopes, cards, &c. The failure was precipitated by eastern failures. Among the preferred creditors are the Queen City National bank, $19,000, and Lydia B. Ross $8,000. The liabilities are estimated at $40,000, with assets at $25,000. The firm had been in business about a year.

Sixty Persons Poisoned.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 28.—An ice-cream festival was given last night at the residence of George Carroll for the benefit of the Baptist church. After partaking of the cream about sixty persons were seized with symptoms of poisoning. No one has as yet died from the effects of the poison, though two persons are reported to be still unconscious and several others seriously ill. The only way the poisoning can be accounted for is by the use of a new ice-cream freezer.

PROUD OF IT.

The New Y. M. C. A. Building an Ornament to the City—The Association and the Work it is Doing.

The new Y. M. C. A. building, which has been in progress of erection this summer, will be completed so that the association will be able to occupy it late in the fall, and early in the winter, at least, they will be comfortably ensconced in their new quarters. The citizens of Fort Wayne have reason to feel proud of the magnificent building which this association has erected on their principal thoroughfare, and in the very heart of the business center of the city. It is a credit to its builders, a monument to the generosity of the citizens whose liberality permitted its erection, and for years to come it will be admired not only for the beauty of its architecture, but for the good that it has done for the young men of our city.

The Young Men's Christian Association, which has been in actual operation in this city for a number of years, has had many a young man to reformation and a better life, and when the association is established in their new rooms, they will have better opportunities for drawing around them this class and the good that they can do in the way of reforming the morals of the city will be almost immeasurable.

The secretary of the association, Mr. R. M. Hays, to whose indefatigable labor much of the success of the new building is due and who is heart and soul in the Y. M. C. A. work, informs us that the building will be entirely ready for occupancy by Thanksgiving Day and it is proposed on that day to hold a grand opening meeting in the auditorium room. Previous to this, however, about the middle of October, perhaps, it is intended to hold a fair and festival in the building, by which it is hoped a handsome sum will be raised for defraying the expense of furnishing the rooms. Many of our citizens have held up the hands of the secretary in his noble work and they will continue to do so, but it is hoped the aid and encouragement of all our people will be extended to him that the Y. M. C. A. may draw all the young men of our city under its benign influences.

A FEW ROBBERIES.

Fred. Smith's House Burglarized, Two Store Rooms Broken Into, While J. W. Pearse Loses a Horse and Buckboard.

Fred. Smith lives at 237 Clay street, near the shops. He is employed at night in the new Pittsburg yards, and must leave Mrs. Smith at home alone. Saturday night the lady saw some one prowling about the residence, and getting alarmed, she went to the house of a friend and stayed all night and yesterday.

When Mr. Smith went home this morning, he discovered that his house had been robbed. He missed about $30 from a bureau drawer, as well as a pair of bracelets, a gold ring and a few household articles. The thief either got in through a window or from the cellar, it matters not which. He enjoyed himself, however, because he put on a pair of Mr. Smith's socks and then donned his new shoes leaving his old ones to be remembered by. The officers were notified this morning, but have no clew, and besides, they look with some suspicion on Mrs. Smith's absence from home.

Last night, at midnight, Special Officer John Madden, discovered the front door of John Brannan's old grocery, on East Main street, wide open. Below the lock was an auger hole, and through it the burglars picked the fastenings. An iron sledge lay near the door, but when Mr. Currier, one of the proprietors, was called, he could discover nothing missing, so that this raid was not remunerative.

These same marauders went to the junk shop and tin store of M. Diehl & Co., on Calhoun street, and forced in the door. Mr. Diehl found everything in disorder in his place of business this morning, but nothing was taken as far as he could detect. His safe was opened, but nothing of special value was in the vault.

Mr. J. W. Pearse, the ex-superintendent of the street car line, let one of his workmen, on the Simon's farm, have a horse and buggy to drive down to the Hartzell homestead, near New Haven. Some time afterward the fellow was found on the road side near the Organ factory, so drunk he did not know his name. Mr. Pearse at once began a search for his horse, but at this writing, —1 o'clock—he had not a trace of the animal or vehicle. The fellow, too, disappeared when he sobered up and cannot be found. It is a strange case.

QUITE A SURPRISE.

Mr. Will P. Cooper and Miss Nellie Brown Married at Chicago To-day.

Mr. Will P. Cooper, city editor of the Gazette, and Miss Nellie Brown, the artist, left for Chicago last night. The relatives of the young people were agreeably surprised this morning by a message from Mr. Cooper announcing his intention to wed Miss Brown, at Chicago, to-day.

Mr Cooper and Miss Brown are first cousins and under the laws of Indiana, cannot wed. The laws of Illinois are more liberal and recognize such a union, so that at this hour it is fare to presume that congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Cooper are in order.

Mr. Cooper is a brilliant writer, very scholarly and entertaining. Miss Brown came here some months ago from Lafayette and established an art studio. She also officiated as society editress of the Gazette, and in both pursuits she won laurels.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper are happily wed and the press gang can only hope that their life will be a continual honeymoon.

A BIG FLAME.

The Anchor Manufacturing Company Suffer a Severe Loss.

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—Early this morning, at Delray, eight miles west of here, a fire broke out in the dry kiln of the Anchor Manufacturing company. An extra engine was sent from this city, but nearly all the buildings are on fire, and it is probably too late to save anything. The loss will be from $250,000 to $300,000. The business of the Anchor Manufacturing company is the making of the one-stave barrel and kindred cooperage, and holding supplies. The employes number about 400. The New York sugar manufacturers of Peter Havemeyer's Sons control the stock of the company.

The hoop mill was saved, but all the other buildings were destroyed. Five Michigan Central box cars which were standing on the switch were also burned. The Michigan Central rails were so twisted by heat that traffic will be delayed some time. All the trains on the Lake Shore road were held back all morning on account of smoke and heat. The insurance was only $40,000 on the burned buildings.

QUEER KIND OF FUN.

Seven Members of a Fire Department Arrested for Being the Originators of Incendiary Fires.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Aug. 29.—Seven members of the Plainfield volunteer fire department, Theo. Van Ness, Lewis Van Ness, Horace Van Ness, George Reed, Phillip Hoppeany, Robert Skinner and John Javakon, were arrested between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning, accused of having been the originators of a hundred or more incendiary fires, that have taken place in the city during the last ten or twelve years. One of the number confessed, saying they did it for the fun of the thing.

POLICE COURT.

The Roll Call Shows a Brisk Sunday Business and Considerable Fun.

Hon. Charles F. Muhler presided at the mayor's court this morning and was as pleasant as a prince after his summer jaunt. Prosecutor Dawson and Captain Diehl were there and seemed inclined to look with a large degree of suspicion on his honor's fish stories. Mr. Muhler put himself in position in his arm and shot his sea tales straight into the jealous prosecutor and policeman with an ecist that would turn Will Sobeiffer green with envy. "When I was at Muskinkuckee" wedged in Mr. Dawson, but before he could get in another word, the mayor had his gavel in hand and with an air of disdain for good stories, spoke us "call the prisoners," while the state's attorney settled down as a crushed tragedian. The caste this morning was as follows:

Fred Gross assault on Jake Luli.

John McNamara, assault on John Abey.

John Gruber, Theo. Bushnell, Warren Neff, Ben Perkins, John Brown, Geo. Brase, C. Schermiger, Dr. Ezra Read and Harry Gard.

Young Gross denies that he struck Luli and he appears to be truthful. His case will come up to-morrow, all the other victims, save three, paid their fines and went on their way rejoicing. The three unfortunates are doing the anvil chorus on the stone pile.

A BIG ONE

Is What the Gas Meeting Promises to be.

To-night at the circuit court room a monster meeting will be held to effect the organization of a company to furnish natural gas to Fort Wayne at the actual cost of the product.

The committee in charge have made perfect arrangements, and they invite everybody to attend.

Short speeches will be made, and a plan of organization presented. This is a great project, and ought to have universal support.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, August 29.—Indiana, generally fair weather, slightly warmer.

A Horrible Death.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 29.—John Goldon, aged 44 years, was instantly killed at 9 o'clock this morning, at the nut and bolt works of Col. L. M. Dayton, in Newport, Ky. His arm was caught in a belt and dashed a heavy pair of shears, which he had in his hand, against his head, causing instant death. He leaves a wife and four children.

A New Gas Well.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 29.—Twenty five miles from this place down the Ohio river and upon the Indiana side of the river, the Union Gas Co., of Louisville, has struck a magnificent flow of natural gas at the depth of 400 feet. Major Wm. J. Purvis, the geologist of this company, says the flow of gas is not less than 10,000,000 feet daily. He does not believe the flow from the Karg well will exceed this well.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The opening of the stock market was moderately active and strong, first prices showing advances of from ¼ to ⅜. Further small advances, generally from ¼ to ⅜ were made in the early dealings. At 11 o'clock the market was dull and firm.

Noon—Money, easy at 4@5 per cent. New York, Aug. 29.—Wheat, 4@ lower. No. 2 red, Aug. 79@c. Corn, 1@⅛c lower. Oats, dull at 32@36c.

TOLEDO, Aug. 29.—Wheat, steady, at 74c. Corn, quiet at 43½c bid. Oats, firm, at 26c. Clover seed, steady, at $4.60.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Wheat, easier, Sept. at 68. Corn, steady 40@c. Oats lower at 24@c. Rye, 44

Death of a Turfman.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 29.—John Weigert last evening shot and fatally injured John Bradley, a well known turfman, whom he found with his wife at a house of ill repute in Louisville. Weigert was arrested. Bradley had been intimate with Weigert's wife for some time.

The Academy.

The Academy of Music will be opened this evening under the management of R. G. Thompson, the north side ticket ticket agent, and E. W. Cook, the Wabash freight department cashier. The young gentlemen have fitted the house up elaborately and propose to please their patrons. The attraction to-night and to-morrow night is "The World," by J. Z. Little and a strong company.

AROUND THE CITY.

The News of the Day as Gathered from the Railroad and Manufacturing Centers of the City.

The railroads are bringing large shipments of lumber into the city.

Wm. Boag, a Pittsburg machinist, is kept from duty on account of sickness.

Ph Smith, of the Bass works, is detained at home on account of sickness in his family.

George Strasser has resigned his position in the Bass machine shop, to take a position in the Pennington works.

John Lonegan, a machinist in the Bass foundry, has returned from a visit to Pittsburg and resumed his position.

The Pennsylvania railway company's net earnings show an increase of $92,000 for July, 1887, as compared with July of 1886.

The Wabash road are to be complimented for the magnificent excursion that they gave to their employes on Saturday.

Henry M. Zanner, the machinist in the Bass works, kindly showed our reporter through their new foundry building this morning.

Robert Harrison, the foreman in the Pittsburg machine shops, holds the ribbons behind a fast trotter and very few blooded horses can pass him on the road.

George Needhammer, a machinist in the Pittsburg shops, who has been off duty for some time on account of a severe case of rheumatism, returned to work this morning.

Thirty-seven years ago yesterday that veteran machinist in the Pittsburg shops, H. Miller, landed in this country, and he celebrated the event at his residence on Marion street, in a very pleasant manner.

The Baldwin locomotive works are employing over two thousand hands, and for the first six months of the present year turned out 318 locomotives. They now have orders on hand for 150, and the output for the year will, it is estimated, reach 650, the largest number ever known.

About a week ago, Phillip Hess, the son of P. J. Hess, of the Pittsburg machine shops, while out in the country hunting for nuts, fell from a tree and broke his arm, besides receiving other injuries. He was taken to his home on Creighton avenue and for a few days was a great sufferer, but we are pleased to note that he is now improving rapidly, and will entirely recover from his injuries.

The Bass works have completed their new foundry building and will move into it on Wednesday, although there are now a small number of men at work in the place. The room is a very large one, and the force of moulders engaged in the other two rooms will be transferred to the foundry, and the rooms which they have occupied will be used for the manufacture of car wheels only.

The Wabash boys report that they had a splendid time at their excursion to Put-in-Bay on Saturday. Everything passed off pleasantly and no accidents occurred to mar the pleasure of the day. The ride across the lake to the island was a delightful one, and a few hours were spent in visiting the attraction that the place affords, and the excursion returned to this city about half-past twelve Sunday morning.

The boys in the cast end moulding rooms of the Bass foundry have a cat, and, by common consent, that cat has been voted the special property of Frank Stier, one of the popular moulders of the works. This morning when the boys came to work, the cat was found in a box, near Frank's working place, with a family of five beautiful little kittens as the result of the pecuniary interest that the boys are so proud of those kittens as the mother is. They will be raised and educated by Frank, and no rats will ever invade the moulding rooms to gnaw holes in the dinner baskets of the employes.

"May do you want a baby item?" said John A. Reilly, as THE SENTINEL reporter was passing through the Pittsburg shops this morning. "You bet," quickly responded our youth and he pulled out his note book and commenced to put a fine point on his No. 3 Faber, "what just the kind of items as reporters are paying a big premium for. Who is the lucky fellow?" "Well, I don't know of anybody just now, but that fellow standing over there, with blue overalls on, was telling me that his cow had a calf last night and if that will do you any good, you might go over and speak to him." Our reporter pocketed his note book and pencil, marched straight up to the desk of Foreman B. Fitzpatrick and preferred charges against the employee who would thus blast the hopes of an anxious reporter.

Serious Accident at the Saratoga Races.

SARATOGA, Aug. 29.—In the first race to-day a collision occurred between the horses at the head of the stretch, Zeb Ward, Sachs Mc, Music and Fountain all going down. Jockey West was badly hurt.

Chariotasco flour, good quality, $3.75 barrel.

FRITZ HOCHE.

A BURGLAR'S FATE.

Jimmy McDavitt, the Noted Cracksman, Meets a Horrible Death While Burglarizing a Store.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Jimmy McDavitt, the well known burglar, and nephew of Jimmy Elliott, the prize fighter, who was killed by Jere Dunn, in Chicago, a few years ago, met with a violent death this morning while trying to escape from a store, where he had been discovered. He was surprised by a porter, who closed the door on him and sent for the police. After a desperate struggle, McDavitt plunged through the plate glass window and was caught by the stomach and disemboweled. When released he was dead.

The Late Dr. Meisheimer.

The remains of the late Dr. C. T. Meisheimer, arrived in the city at noon, en route to Bluffton, where the funeral occurs to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. ### Alleged Crookedness.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—An Indianapolis, Ind., News special says: "The latest discovery of crookedness in the democratic management of the state affairs, is a voucher on file in the state auditor's office showing that in last May, the trustee of the insane hospital, had paid $2.72 per gallon for 472 gallons of strawberries, when the market price was only 32 cents. A democratic farmer was given the contract. Numerous cases of corruption in the hospital's contract system have been made against the trustees by the state civil service association.

[The statement above is misleading. The record should read "$2.72 per bushel," and not "gallon" as it does. This is all there is in this wise tale. ED. SENTINEL.]

MONDAY, AUGUST 29, 1887.

THE killed at the Bussey bridge disaster of the Boston and Providence Railroad were not a fourth of those at Chatsworth, and yet the road has settled claims reaching $4 50,000.

THE Rev. Myron W. Reed, of Denver, Colo., is spoken of as a probable successor of the late Henry Ward Beecher in Plymouth Church. Mr. Reed originally preached in Indianapolis in the church where Mr. Beecher held his first pastorate.

IN Paris in 1883 115,000,000 people traveled in busses, 181,000,000 in street cars, 188,500,000 in the penny steamers, 45,000,000 in suburban trains. The busses are very popular and have steadily grown for thirty years. In 1854 34,000,000 people used them; 1864, 96,000,000; 1874, 115,000,000; 1884, 131,000,000.

BUFFALO BILL, according to recent reports from London, is not likely to return with much money. It is said that he made an unfortunate contract with the managers of the American Exhibition to something like the effect that he was to receive one-third of the receipts of his show and assume all the expenses of it. It is said that but for this the American Exhibition would have scored a loss.

GEN. MILES well deserves the sword to be presented to him by the inhabitants of Arizona Territory on the anniversary of the surrender of Geronimo. He is to-day the most popular man in Arizona, and justly so. The difficulties which confronted him when he undertook the task of freeing that Territory of hostile Apaches will never be understood outside of the district most interested in the result. His success has endeared him to the people of Arizona, who for the first time in years are free from apprehensions of Indian outbreaks.

THE Berlin correspondent of the Strassburger Post thus describes Prince Bismarck, as he appeared on leaving Berlin for Varzin recently: "Prince Bismarck has undeniably become an old man. His hair is snow white, his face marked with deep wrinkles, but his gait is firm and his figure as erect as ever. The Prince has of late been wearing silver spectacles, which give him a strange appearance. His traveling costume consisted of a light-colored summer suit, a yellow spring overcoat, and an enormous soft gray hat. He was accompanied only by Count Rantzau and two gigantic bulldogs, which jumped into the carriage ahead of him."

TWO rogues in Southeastern Missouri discovered a huge snake, yellow and spotted, coiled up in a lump the size of a bushel basket. Its head was raised and a long, forked tongue rapidly shot forth while its tail, in air, rapidly vibrated, giving forth an ominous and well-known racket from more than twenty rattles. They began at a given signal to ram heavy blows upon the snake, which rolled up into twice its original bulk, writhing and rattling under the stunning whacks from the two sturdy cudgelers. It was killed and found to be nearly ten feet in length. Along its back was a sharp ridge, bearing long hairs like a hog's bristles, strung at short intervals along the entire length of the snake.

A BRAVE feat was performed at Kingstown, England, the other evening by a constable named Eubank, who, having seen a man fling himself into the sea off the pier, immediately threw off his coat and boots, tied a rope around his waist, and swam out to the rescue. At about eighty yards from shore he came up to the intending suicide, who turned on Eubank and caught him by the throat. A desperate struggle ensued, and both sank and were given up for lost. They rose, however, after a considerable interval, the rope had slipped off the constable, and his prisoner made still more frantic efforts to drown both. Eubank, however, preserving the rope floating, caught it with one hand and held his prisoner with the other, and both were hauled ashore.

AN interesting experiment in co-operative industry is now being made in Minnesota, where a colony of a half-dozen families from Minneapolis have settled in Crow Wing County on a tract of land of 240 acres, bought for the purpose by the Minneapolis Knights of Labor. These families were not prospering in the city, and were too poor to have undertaken farming independently. On so small a scale did they begin, and so poor were they, that it was months before they could provide themselves with a single team of horses. But, after a year's trial, the Minneapolis Tribune states that they have done well, have found health and a sufficient though frugal living on the land, and have a start that will render them eventually prosperous.

Pimples, boils, and other humors are liable to appear when the blood gets heated. To cure them, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE common use lately made of Mrs. Cleveland's picture as an advertising card is likely to lead to several suits against the firms putting them out, says a Washington dispatch. The originals of the pictures were copyrighted by two Washington photographers shortly after Mrs. Cleveland's marriage. At first the only advantage reaped was from the local sale of cards. Gradually an outside demand sprang up. Before this could be met orders commenced to pour in from all parts of Europe for them. They have proved to be the most popular selling pictures of the day. To supply the foreign demand leading houses in London and Paris are now striking off copies of the American originals without regard to the rights of the Washington artists. They have no remedy for the foreign infringement in this country. The tobacco-house cigarette manufacturers, and soap dealers who have been making Mrs. Cleveland's features common in lithographs and chromos are to be called to account, and the prosecutions will have the moral sanction of the White House, where the practice has caused much offense. There is no desire on the part of Mrs. Cleveland to give the Washington dealers a monopoly of her features, and she is not adverse to copies being made for private sale, use, or ornament, even if she should be compelled to give outside artists a special sitting, but she will not consent to the use of her pictures for an advertisement.

It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidneys, and bowels gently yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion, and kindred ills.

THE Chicago Herald, in a few well-chosen sentences, disposes of Ives, who "aspired to be a greater Gould or a more resplendent Vanderbilt." Ives for a time traveled at a thundering gait toward the hundred-million goal. In various ways he had secured $20,000,000 assets, but liabilities managed to keep up with the procession, and suddenly the crash came and Ives went down. "Legitimate trade," says the Herald, "lawful profits, enterprises within the lines of conscience, never piled up a fortune of a hundred millions within a single lifetime. Several such fortunes, and numbers of others scarcely less tremendous, have been accumulated since the civil war, but by what methods? The few who have achieved this questionable success are they who have plucked the fruits of corrupted legislation, a debauched judiciary and unrighteous public subsidies. The oppressed majority have paid the fiddler, and are paying for this unholy dance of multi-millionaires which now goes merrily on."

Erysipelas and Obstinate Ulcers, Boils, Carbuncles and Running Sores of every kind are cleansed, the poisonous germs destroyed and a speedy cure effected by using Darby's Prophylactic Fluid.

"I have been afflicted with the Erysipelas. Nothing would heal the sore or stop the running. I used Darby's Prophylactic Fluid and found a speedy cure. Have also tried it in several other cases and it proved effectual."—S. P. Greer.

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles Hood's Sarsaparilla, and am cured." C. E. LEVEZOT, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

Is one of the most disagreeable diseases caused by impure blood. It is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without avail; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well."

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. Stanton, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. # A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for no such combination exists in the Pharmacopœia as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late Thos. H. Powers, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an official form."

L. M. Hinton, M. D., Washington, Ark., says "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to get up a vegetable compound that would take Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectually move the liver to action and at the same time aid instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do some thing which ought to have been done; delirium; low spirits; a dark yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate that the blood is not being purified, and that great suffering, sickness and death will ensue.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a rare experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of every form of peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in the judgement, of results, of the great and widely-known specialist in such diseases, has received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the most aggravated and obstinate cases, the full and hearty commendation that has fairly entitled it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all" but as a most perfect specific for women's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful and invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the weak and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unsurpassed and invaluable in relieving and curing nervous prostration, irritability, excitability, nervousness, sleeplessness, mental depression, hysteria, spasms and other distressing symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skilful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely a vegetable preparation and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. In curing disease, or relieving pain, it induces cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use in small doses will soon cure headache.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhœa, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, irregularities, suppression, prolapsus or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness of the ovaries accompanied with internal heat.

As a regulator and promoter of functional action at the critical "change of life" from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfect safe, reliable agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in all cases of abortion or miscarriage, and in all cases where a uterine tonic or alterative is required it is unequaled.

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Golden Medical Discovery, and occasional doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets, cures every form of chronic uterine disease. They control the menstrual function, and also build up unimpaired health and perfect regularity.

"Favorite Prescription" is sold by druggists, and is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles, (holding 100 doses), $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

BITS OF SCIENCE.

One who claims to have tried it says rubber may be rendered proof to steam by means of a paste composed of powdered shellac stirred in at not less than a weight of ten ounces of ammonia. I should be afraid to stand three or four weeks before being used.

A NEW story of the final destruction of the earth is that the polar ice is penetrating the interior of the globe like a wedge, and that as soon as it reaches the fires there will be a tremendous explosion that will split the world into pieces too small for trunk-packing.

It is often desirable to make excavations for pipes in very cold weather when the earth is frozen. Quicklime has been tried for thawing the surface with success. The ground to be dug is covered with alternate layers of lime and snow. The slacking lime heats the soil so effectually that after ten or fifteen hours it may be removed with ease.

"BROWNING" oranges grown in the West Indies and Mexico, so that they shall pass muster as real Florida fruit, is the device of an ingenuous Yankee. The process consists of putting the fruit into a large sieve and passing it over a hot fire until the oranges contained therein are sufficiently scorched, technically "browned" to give them the true Florida tinge which is peculiar to that delicious orange. The "browned" fruit is mostly shipped north and west.

M. Lunier, an Austrian meteorologist, claims to have ascertained, after careful investigation, that the moon has an influence on a magnetized needle, varying with its phases and declinations. The phenomenon is said to be more prominently noticeable when the moon is near the earth, and to be very marked when she is passing from the full to her first or second quarter. The disturbances are found to be at their maximum when the moon is in the plane of the equator, and greater during the southern than it is during the northern declinations.

Galton has pointed out some very curious facts concerning the children of professional men. He found, from a study of the heredity of the members of some of the largest scientific societies of London, that the legal profession presented the most eminent men and the fewest idiots. The medical profession came next, and lastly clergymen, who produced the smallest number of eminent men and the largest number of idiots and feeble-minded. The lawyers gave origin to six times as many eminent men as the clergy. The clergy gave origin to six times as many idiots and feeble-minded as the lawyers.

Prof. Trowbridge's plan of submarine telephony in which speech was to be transmitted between vessels at sea without the aid of any connecting wire has been abandoned as impracticable, as the system upon which Mr. Edison has been experimenting in Florida is more promising of good results. In this system the telephone signals, by long and short explosive sounds instead of by spoken words and communications, have been successfully exchanged through the water between vessels from three to four miles apart, with the prospect that the working limit may be increased with improvement in the apparatus.

Crabs, which are supposed to shed their shells every year, do not often shed them after they have attained their full size, and the creatures become victims to barnacles and all sorts of marine growths that fasten themselves upon the shell. A remarkable example of this may be seen in the British museum, where has been placed an old crab of the edible species, with some half-dozen oysters of large size fixed to its back, which had, ever increasing, the old crab was doomed to carry to the end of its days. Another curious specimen preserved is that of a hairy crab, which, though not larger itself than a walnut, is so clad with a sponge as large as a man's fist.

A Chapter from Relics.

The pre-historic development of Northern Europe is considered in a work by the late J. J. Worsaal, an eminent Danish archaeologist, under the following phrases, the approximate chronology assigned being as stated: First. The early Stone Age, at least about B. C., when portions only of Southern Scandanavia seem to have been inhabited. Second. The later Stone Age, about 2,000 to 1,000 B. C., contemporaneous with the Bronze Age on the shores of the Mediterranean. Third. The early Bronze Age, about 1,000 to 500 B. C., when a Stone Age existed to the north, and an Iron Age had already come in to the south. Fourth. The late Bronze Age, about 500 B. C. to the time of Christ's birth, when a pre-Roman Age or Iron was developed in Central and Western Europe. Fifth. The early Iron Age from A. D. 1 to 450, when bronze was still in use in parts of the Scandinavian peninsula. Sixth. The middle Age of Iron, about A. D. 450 to 700, when foreign Roman-German influence predominated. Seventh. The later Iron Age or Viking Period, about A. D. 700 to 1,000, when a Stone Age and Iron existed in the extreme north of Dalarne and Lapland.

At the very pseudo period in May day the milkmaids always go half London and other places with milk dressed up in their own with wreaths and garlands of flowers, and lead the animal along in state, dancing around it before the houses of their principal customers.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self destruction. We know of no remedy for dyspepsia more successful than Hood's Sarsaparilla. It acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, tones the stomach and other organs, removes the faint feeling creates a good appetite, cures headache, and refreshes the burdened mind. Give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial. It will do you good.

ILLS OF PRESENTING GIFTS.

A Beautiful Custom That Is Greatly Abused.

[Good Housekeeping.]

Shams and shoes, perplexity, annoyance, and embarrassment have crept into the custom of gift giving. Though one may make a gift out of the depth of the heart, and do it lovingly and unostentatiously, yet it seems as if a dozen selfishness were leering on him to force it to some other expression than he can afford, or to some other object than he would choose, or where he must make a show of the article given. Quiet, unostentatious, spontaneous giving shines forthrightly, when we find it amid the many heartlessness, the gaudy show, and the heartlessnings that often accompany the formal giving that is a part of social life.

The reader may call to mind some wedding or birthday anniversary that he is invited to help celebrate. The perfection of all problems is ascertaining the common, "What shall I wear?" then is, "What present shall I send?" It is no cinch to begin and participate in the usual dinner and to be cordial in words, acting and congratulation, for none of these will pardon the neglect of overnight of the gift. There will be the question, "Where is Mrs. Jackson's present?" and then the unpleasant comment if she has made none. So Mrs. Jackson sets out to find some compromise between pride and purse, perhaps poverty, something that costs no more than absolutely compulsory, and yet looks as if it were worth a great deal more, something that the other guests will not look at slightingly, if not speak of contemptuously, or at least think of in the same spirit.

And then the guests compare impressions of themselves and put themselves on exhibition, after a fashion, all to the same way that they would do if they were to stand up before a committee of critics and have the style and elegance of their clothing passed upon. The show is at last over, but the jealousies and heartburnings remain, the fear that respectability has been endangered by the insignificance of the gift, or the cold-topping consciousness of a few that they each made the best, or one of the best, presents of the lot.

Afterward, as is more or less the custom in some parts of the country, the names of the donors and a brief description of their gifts appear in some newspaper, there to undergo further comparison and criticism and all the train of accompaniments. Finally, if the present was valuable enough, it may find its way to a shop where duplicate presents are bought and sold, so little did the receiver care about the personality of the giver, or of such little use it to the recipient among several other presents of the same kind.

Gift extortion and compulsory gift-making are little less than sinful, if they fall short of that. Gifts are by no means always the token of friendship, and, when combined with the abuses that are often made to accompany them, they are demoralizing, they are unpleasant features of what take the form of duties, and they are dark spots in social life.

Something is wrong when a present is made a test of social standing, or when it is made the stereotypic for performing a social act. There is an opportunity for reform when what is apparently a friendly deed is confessedly empty of honest intent, when it is burdensome, annoying, compulsory, false-hearted, or made for show, or evidence of wealth, or merely for social conformity.

The only excuse that one can make for these abuses of gift-making is that their compulsory features have the effect of putting people into the habit of making presents at a time when their friendly feelings have not become strong enough to prompt the act unasked. With the growth of these feelings the custom gradually gets a better and surer foundation and stands more plainly in harmony with civilization. A gift should be the embodiment of sentiment, from which cost should be totally divorced as an element of weight, and with which no social compulsion should be linked except the compulsion of a spontaneous expression of feeling. The world is not good enough for that yet, but some attempt, if only a feeble one, if general enough, would be a green oasis in the desert.

Can't Judge from Appearances.

About all we know is that there is absolutely no infallible rule about anything. Some people may be madder than Hatters and you wouldn't know it by any outward sign, and other people may rave and yell and shout and get to be a lot run all the time. I don't think the man with the constant smile and the merry laugh and the good nature and all that sort of things is as happy as he is credited with being. I know a fellow who has the reputation for all that sort of thing, an the last plenty of friends, but that fellow is about as miserable a man as I ever knew. Few people have any idea of it, but he wears in his heart to be able to do things he can't do, what other far less popular people do, and he has ambitions that his very easy going disposition is antagonistic to. He has never desired to have a reputation for a kind of clever-ness he is not capable of, and all his friends and all the applause in the world can't compensate for the consciousness of his incapacity for a thing. Yet he has sense enough to stick to what he can do and is content enough that if he didn't he couldn't make a living. Yet Hermann Chronicle.

It takes longer for a man to find out a fan than any other creature that is made.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty five cents a bottle.

It may be worth while to investigate this "talk" and see what there is in it.

Eighteen bicyclists gaily started from the Globe chop house at 9:30 yesterday morning, for a trip to Huntington and return. The eight miles of rough mud road between Fort Wayne and Huntington was bad wheeling, and only five, Messrs. Fraze, Edgerton, Perry, Pickard and Shoery made the trip home on their wheels. The remaining thirteen took the evening train.

This month will complete the regimental encampments of the Knights of Pythias. The first and second regiments went into camp Friday, the former at Huntington and the latter at Crawfordsville. The third have had their encampment at Richmond and the fifth at Lake Maxinkuckee. The fourth regiment will go into camp at Columbus September 13th.

The tube rose, although one of the sweetest of flowers, is rapidly going out of style, so far as wearing them is concerned. "The reason is," said a lady the other day, "that they always remind one of a funeral. So many have been used about funerals that every house where a dead person lies is redolent with the perfume of tube roses, and it gets to be associated in everybody's mind with a corpse and thus it gets unpopular."

Rev Dr. Craig, of Chicago, who has been filling the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church during the vacation of the pastor, Dr. Moffat, preached his closing sermon last evening. Dr. Craig is a splendid pulpit orator, and his discourses are replete with fine thought and pure logic. His earnest and forcible style of delivery, with his elegant rhetoric and convincing logic, have made him a great favorite with the large audiences that have assembled to hear him each Sunday, and should the doctor visit our city at any time in the future, he can be sure of a welcome and an audience.

The other eye is now seriously affected and it is thought he will also lose that one. He is a brother in law of Dr. Martz, of this city, and he now has his home with him.

Five car loads of Fort Wayne excursionists went to Huntington yesterday with the Knights of Pythias. The day was delightful, and everybody enjoyed the trip to the thrifty, decorated little city. The town is enjoying a boom and the evidences of prosperity are manifested everywhere. After a visit to the Pythian encampment, which, by the way, is not what it promised to be, a member of the SENTINEL staff was entertained in the pleasantest sort of a manner by his friend, Mr. Will Emery, editor of the Huntington Democrat.

AN EASTERN TALE.

A king once summoned his three sons,
And thus addressed the anxious ones:
"Go forth, my sons, through all the earth
And search for articles of worth;
Then he who brings the choicest thing,
Shall in my stead be crowned as king."

In one year's time again they meet,
And kneel before the sovereign's feet:
And as with gracious outstretched hand,
He welcomed home the youthful band,
He natural eagerness expressed,
To see the objects of their quest.
The first such lustrous pearls displays,
That every tongue is loud in praise.
So white, the snow-flakes on their way
Compared to them are dull and gray.
The next a diamond more pure,
And larger than the Koh-i-noor,
That shone with such a brilliant light,
The sunbeams, shamed, withdrew from sight.

'Twas hard to choose between the two,
The monarch knew not what to do.
The third is standing calmly there;
Now, with a hall triumphant air
And smile of confidence and hope,
He shows a cake of Ivory Soap,
So peerless in its purity,
That dirt, alarmed, takes wings to fly.
The old king, as it meets his sight,
Grasps it, and cries in wild delight:
"No more confusion or dismay,
No more cold meals on washing day.
Subjects! my youngest son obey,
The Ivory Soap has won the day."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

His home is at Union City, Pa., and he was prominent as a gas contractor. His brother will arrive from Richburg, N. Y., to-night, to convey the remains of the dead contractor to Pennsylvania.
